Melissa Schools and City of Melissa designate May 15-19 as “Kindness Week”

MELISSA, TX – Kindness Week returns to Melissa Schools and the City of Melissa next month from Monday, May 15 through Friday, May 19.

Mayor Reed Greer signed and sealed an official proclamation on Thursday designating May 15-19, 2017 a Week of Kindness for the City of Melissa.

If you’re visiting Melissa Schools, look for the proclamation on display at each of our school front offices and at the Home Office.

The Kindness Week proclamation reminds us that:

- Respect, dignity, compassion, and humility are essential in creating and maintaining a civilized society.
- We hold the power of kindness within us.
- In using our power of kindness, we can create a ripple effect.
- Everyone can make a difference in our community and our world.
- Through random acts of kindness, we can help to make our community a better place, and ourselves and those around us better people.
- We all can cultivate caring, kindness, and compassion within our community through Random Acts of Kindness.

Melissa Schools students and faculty plan to honor Kindness Week through Random Acts of Kindness. Follow our activities – and join in with your own – through the hashtag #MelissaKind on Twitter, Facebook, and Instagram.
